++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and scattered showers, heavy at times.

Today:
After a cold and bright start, cloud will build bringing scattered showers from late morning. These could be heavy in places and may contain hail. Feeling milder than Monday. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will gradually ease during the evening leaving clear spells overnight. Cold with light winds allowing for isolated fog and frost patches to form under the clearest skies. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
After a bright and frosty start, cloud will soon build to leave a mixture of scattered showers and sunny spells throughout the day. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Remaining largely dry for the outlook with sunny intervals and light winds. Gradually becoming milder, though still cold overnight with frost and fog patches.
